

Narrator: For some time now, the people at Gillette have been looking for a better way to shave. A better way than with ordinary razors with their one single blade. (snowplow engine roars)

- I think I've got it.

Narrator: Gillette introduces the two-bladed razor, the new Gillette Trac II. The first blade gets most of your whisker, the second blade gets whisker The first blade leaves behind. It's the best new idea in safety razors in over 50 years. (person yells)

Narrator: The new Gillette Trac II twin-blade shaving system. It's one blade better than whatever you're using now.
