

Announcer: Warm up a can of all-meat dog food, pour off the liquid, and what do you have? The same amount of food as you'll find in two Gaines-Burgers, but that's where the comparison ends. Unlike all-meat foods, Gaines-Burgers is a complete meal with plenty of meat plus all the vitamins and minerals your dog is known to need, all this for a lot less money with a lot less effort. Let your dog get the liquid he wants from his water bowl and the nourishment he needs from Gaines-Burgers.
