

- I had cancer.

- In a year, he'll be talking as well as me. I know because I'm the volunteer who's helping him to learn the way this man helped me years ago.

- More people are surviving cancer than ever. So we need more aftercare than ever. When you give to the American Cancer Society, your money talks.