

Interviewer: Why are you better treated at mental clinic?

- Because they said, "Don't make problems to this detainee. He makes- He may do some problems. He may hurt himself." Don't do, because although the comes from commander you know? Common staff, comment groups and they said, "Don't treat them." And they sticked a red sticker on the cage. If you have a red sticker, no one comes and plays with- No one comes and push to you. So hardly they do with any other detainees, not with you.

Interviewer: Because?

- Because you had a red sticker on your cage.

Interviewer: Which means?

- Which means you are a danger detainee and the danger mental patient, you know? (laughs)

Interviewer: Did you have a red sticker?

- Oh, always. (laughs) I had always a red sticker on my cage, you know? That helped me, you know?
