

Announcer: Gillette has a new kind of razor. It's called Good News. You never have to change the blades. The Good News razor by Gillette. You'll never change blades again.

Narrator: This is the new Gillette razor called Good News. It's an all one-piece twin blade razor that's so different, after lots of great shaves you just throw the whole razor away. You change razors instead of blades. The Good News razor by Gillette. It only costs a quarter and it means you'll never have to change blades again.