

- Hey dad, I'm into burgers, but, like, they're all the same, groove?

- What's he mean?

- He means all burgers are the same.

- No, Maurice!

- Don't call him Maurice! He's actually called Noel.

- All burgers are not the same. Four, please. Of all the leading hamburger chains, only Hardee's has burgers that are charco-broiled on an open grill, dig?

- Far out.

- What does he mean?

- He means he likes it.

- Far out!

- He likes it.
