Translator: The medical care was very, very badly done. I needed to see a dentist just once, my tooth was aching, and when I went to see the dentist he told me, "I can't fix it, I can only pull it." They removed my tooth. Then towards the end, when I was about to leave, I asked for the dentist once more he still removed two teeth and then he fixed one. That is, we know perfectly well that they could take care of the teeth, but they'd rather remove them. (speaking in foreign language)
