

Narrator: You buy a new car and what happens? Your son spends more time behind the wheel than you do. Well, why not? That's why we got a real family car like this Rambler classic wagon. Look at him. Proud. I would feel pretty good too. Especially about the extra safety that's built into this Rambler. As all the standard safety features. Seatbelt, front and rear, backup lights, outside rear view mirror, padded dash and visors. The works. Then there's a double safety brake system. The only car with that standard in big three is Cadillac. And the solid single unit body. Yep, safety is a lot of things. It's a good car. Good roads, good laws, and a good driver.
