

- Okay, that's the last brick.

- What's wrong? You out of bricks?

- No, I mean my hands, dad. This bricklaying's demolished them. Look, which is rougher, this brick or my hand?

- Here, try Wondra.

- A hand lotion?

- It's a conditioning lotion, see? Wondra's different. Rich like a cream.

- Hey, it's thick. (son chuckling) But can it help fix up these concrete hands?

Narrator: Look, if you saw rough, dry hands through a magnifying glass, you'd actually see the flaking but watch how fast Wondra rubs right in and takes the day's work right out. Just look at the difference a few seconds make.

- My hands feel better. They're not so rough anymore.

- And there's not all that greasiness.

- Yeah. And the soda bottle doesn't slip. It's good stuff.

- Hi, Dickie.

(girl chuckling)

- Hey, Dick, I think she's got a crush on your hands.

- Yeah?

Narrator: Wondra, Regular or Unscented, rubs right in and takes the day's work right out of your hands.
