

- I use Scope upon rising. It gives me a good clean feeling in the morning. Then after I've gone through the day, I've been eating, and this and that and the other, I come home. I have a family. I want to have a pleasant odor with them, as well as with everyone else. And so a little bit of Scope after I get home, it can't hurt. It can only help.

Voice-Over: No matter how you say it, Scope fights bad breath.
