

- Do you see the Caravell sign? Well, that's dad's candy factory, Roberta, and someday it will be mine.
- My family's always been fond of your family's candy, Ira.
- That's because dad has always used wonderful caramel, the crispiest crispies, the best chocolate. And so will I.
- Well, I just hope your father appreciates you, Ira Caravell.
- He will, Roberta. I'm gonna put a lot of pride into every candy bar I make.
- Oh, don't take out any of the caramel, Ira.
- Trust me.