

- While catching the Sunday football game and a snooze, my wife woke me for dinner with,

- Honey,
(husband yawns) your breath smells so stale.

- So I tried my old mouthwash. Then she said,

- You smell like a medicine chest.

- Well, it works.

- So does Scope. It fights bad breath and Scope gives you a minty, fresh breath more people will like.

- She was right. Now I use Scope. Why settle for medicine breath when Scope gives me...

- The breath more people will like.
