

- Eight, nine, 10. (grunts) Like everybody else, I'm paying a lot more attention to physical fitness these days, and one thing I've learned, physical fitness has to include dental fitness, good dental health, because if you're gonna take care of your body, it makes sense to start with your mouth. Now right now, during Children's Dental Health Week, why not check your family's dental health program? Because healthy teeth mean a happier life.
