

(police siren blares) (car engine roars)

Narrator: This is Bob Hope for Texaco. State troopers are on duty 24 hours a day, and their cars hardly get a minute's rest because when one trooper goes off duty, another goes on and may use the same car. I thought I covered a lot of miles, but since 1972, more than 90 trooper cars using Havoline Super Premium. All Temperature motor oil from Texaco (police siren blares) were driven a total (car skids) of over 4 million tough miles and have the engines taken apart and inspected. None showed any sign of unusual wear. With Havoline's carefully balanced formulation, you get all this protection (police siren blares) without buying any extra motor oil additives. You can protect your own car like a trooper. Just remember to check your oil regularly and always ask for the one proven by state troopers for over 4 million miles. Havoline Super Premium All Temperature motor oil, (car engine roars) (police siren blares) trust Texaco to protect your car like a trooper.
