

Man: Watch closely. Notice the bull won't charge.

- Stench International?

- Yes, those villains bugged the matador's breath.

- Gave him bad breath?

- His last three bulls simply refused to charge.

- Sounds like a job for Scope.

- You mean--

- Precisely. You must get Scope to our matador, or there will be a riot in the bullring. (car motor)

- How long does Scope last?

- For hours. First thing in the morning, and your breath feels fresher for hours.

- Really?

- Once in the morning does it.

- Stench agent! (car skidding) (car collision) (wind blows)

- Just in time!

- Scope! (footsteps running) (foot collides with leg) (case slams against head) (two bodies collide) (body hits metal fencing)

- El matador! A toast?

- Gracias! (crowd cheers)

Narrator: Help stamp out stench with Scope. Once in the morning does it.
