

DUKE
UNIVERSITY
CHAPEL

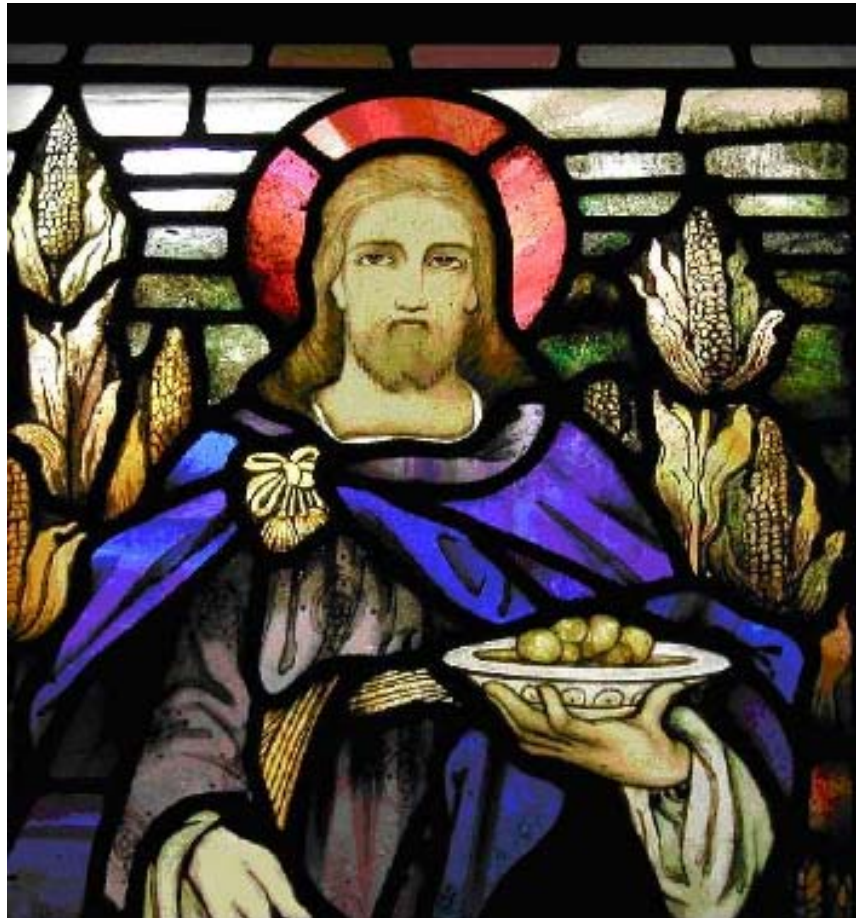

Service of Worship

Ninth Sunday After Pentecost

August 6, 2006

Eleven o'clock in the Morning

☞ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ☞

"Bread of Life" stained glass by Stephen Adam from Kilmore Church, Isle of Mull, Scotland

This morning's scripture readings draw a connection between the miracle of the manna for the Israelites in the wilderness, and the life and person of Jesus. The bread from heaven in Exodus represents God's power, provision, and care for the Israelites. Yet the miracle of the bread from heaven is not limited to the manna in the wilderness, but finds fruition in the radical in-breaking of Jesus—the bread of life—whose nourishment satisfies all who seek him. In his letter to the Ephesians, Paul encourages the church at Ephesus to build up the body of Christ. In the same way that bread satisfies the physical body, Christ strengthens the church community, the body of Christ on earth, in unity, hope and love.

DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

Duke Chapel is a grand building, suitable for hosting major events in the life of the University and its members; it acts as a moderator for the diversity of religious identity and expression on campus; and it is a Christian church of an unusually interdenominational character, with a tradition of stirring music, preaching, and liturgy. We welcome you to our life of worship, learning, dialogue and service.
